ITI extends FPO issue period again

STATE-OWNED ITI ON Friday extended the issue period for its ongoing follow-on public offer (FPO) by four working days till February 5 following lukewarm response from investors. This is the second time the company has extended its issue period. Prior to this, the company, on January 28, extended the issue period for its FPO by three days till January 31. Also, it had reduced the price band to ₹71-77 per share for its FPO from ₹72-77 apiece. — PTI

Budget day: No fresh investment, redemption for MF investors

MUTUAL FUND INVESTORS will not be able to make fresh investment or sell their units on the Budget day because subscription and redemption are closed on Saturdays and Sundays, industry officials said. Mutual funds subscriptions and redemptions will not be permitted because all the fund houses in their scheme information documents have declared Saturday and Sunday as "non-business day".

Consequently, mutual funds investors will not be able to participate like others participants in stock markets. "Tomorrow (Saturday), stock exchanges are open but mutual funds are closed for subscription and redemptions," said Omkeshwar Singh, head of mutual fund distribution business at Samco.

Investors through equity and derivatives can participate but investors through mutual funds will not be able to participate, he added. — PTI
